Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The nonimmigrant visa petition was denied by the Director, California Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The petitioner claims to be in the computer software technology development business. The petitioner claims that it has entered into a joint venture with Laser Parts Center, located in Pakistan. The petitioner seeks to employ the beneficiary temporarily in the United States in a managerial or executive capacity, namely as its computer software consultant. The director determined that the petitioner failed to provide sufficient evidence to establish that (1) a qualifying relationship, namely a joint venture agreement, existed between the U.S. and foreign entities; (2) the beneficiary had been and would be employed primarily in a managerial or executive capacity; and (3) the foreign entity had transferred to the U.S. entity a significant amount of investment capital.

On appeal, counsel indicated that he would submit a brief and/or evidence to the AAO within 30 days. The notice of appeal is dated September 19, 2003. To date, the AAO has not received any additional evidence. Therefore, the record is considered complete.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. 103.3(a)(1)(v) states in part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

As counsel has failed to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal, the appeal will be summarily dismissed.

In visa petition proceedings, the burden of proving eligibility for the benefit sought rests solely with the petitioner. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1361. The petitioner has not sustained that burden.

ORDER: The appeal is summarily dismissed.
